We ~~play~~ were bad fundamentally. We had four or five bad plays in the first half that cost us the ball game. I thought there was a quick whistle on Bell's fumble during their first Touchdown drive, but it doesn't matter what I think, it's what the referee thinks. We had ~~axixgxxx~~ the defense diagramed on the blackboard, we just didn't play it well (on Franklin's TD pass to Smith).

We came out in the second half playing for one hullewa break, in the third period, but we just didn't get it. We wanted to score in the third quarter and that would have put us back in the game. I thought the defense did an excellent job, especially Otto Smith. He's a great ball player.

I'm not encouraged at all by our second half performance. You go by the whole ball game, and they had more points than we did. They had a strong kicking game today and we had poor field position throughout the first half. (How does it feel to lose three in a row) When you play those kind of people, you're going to lose. You readily didn't see us getting pushed around out there.

No series injuries.....

Any time you win 21-7 in an emotional game like this, it's a big win. We're very happy with it. Michigan State is a good football team and they're going to win a lot of games this year. We played all right the first half, but I was quite disappointed with the second half. We didn't move the ball well. It was bad coaching. I don't blame the kids, I blame myself. I didn't let our offense run at them. We tried to get too fancy with a 21-0 lead. When you get a little older like I am, I guess you get a little friv~~ous~~ous.

I was disappointed in the way we kicked the ball around. We could have done a lot better job offensively. The play was caused for a purpose (Franklin TD pass to Smith). We wanted to score the touchdown and the way their defense was set up, we thought we could make it go.

My only complaint with the defense was that we let Ba gett run around too much. Our containment around the ends was not good and that was why he had enough time to throw the touchdown pass. Overall, I was very pleased with the defense.

Injuries....Dennis Franklin (bruised ribs), Jeff Perlinger and Dave Metz (pinched nerves in the neck area), Tim Davis (ankle)
